

DIRECTOR'S LETTER

Wednesday 3rd December 2025

Dear Parents & Staff of Brookes Moscow,

RE: Director's Update

I hope that everyone has had an enjoyable week so far, as we head rapidly towards the end of the term, reports, Christmas lunches, concerts and much, much more.

I had the privilege of being entertained and presented to, with adverts and models of houses for sale in Moscow, by 7B last week. Outstanding speaking and listening from all students, and some extremely creative ideas. Well done to Fedor and Vera, who claimed my first prize for the straightforward, well presented yet creative house (one that was also very cheap to buy!) Congratulations to all students for their wonderful designs and ideas.

Profile of a Teacher

Mr. Thomas Jones-Parry (Social Sciences Teacher & Deputy Designated Safeguarding Lead)
BA (Hons) Politics and History: University of Newcastle Upon Tyne PGCE: Social Sciences: Manchester Metropolitan University

Thomas has a wealth of experience in education, having worked in international schools for over 10 years in a number of countries including Russia, Malaysia and Vietnam, as well as in his home city of London, UK. Now in his fifth year at Brookes Moscow, Thomas has been fully converted to the way the framework encourages students to make practical connections between their studies and the real world. Thomas has had a number of roles throughout his time at Brookes Moscow. His primary position is a teacher in the Social Sciences Department, he also takes great pride in having coached a number of sports teams at the school, including successful tournaments both around Russia and internationally.

We were entertained on Monday 1st December, by an outstanding display of talent and confidence from our young Brookes.Rus students - The Nutcracker Christmas performance was wonderful and highlighted the successes of our Russian staff. Thank you to our Head of Brookes.Rus, Tatiana Krasilnikova and her team for a truly inspiring show.

I wish you all a wonderful week and weekend ahead.

My very best wishes,

Mr. Charley King
Director of school
